

I listen to KLove Radio that is transmitted on FM translators. I do not listen to any other stations and depend on them for all my music needs. In addition, I actively listen & worship when the radio is on in my home and car. All my friends listen to KLove & our children as well. It is one of the few stations that is ok for children. The public needs the hope & inspiration the station provides. I do not want you to give LPFM priority over the FM translators. As it is I cannot get KLove some evenings now and it is very upsetting.
